FACULTY

MS. KATHARINE BIRBALSINGH CBE

is the founder and headmistress of Michaela Community School, a charter school established in Wembley Park, London. She has been identified as among the twenty most influential figures in British education and was awarded the Contrarian Prize. She is the author of several books; her most recent, The Power of Culture, was published in 2020. Her work and pedagogy is analyzed in the 2022 Michaela documentary, The Strictest Headmistress in Britain. She is also chair of the Social Mobility Commission and was appointed Commander of the Order of the British Empire (CBE) in the 2020 Birthday Honours.

MR. BEN CROCKER

is presently completing his M.A. at St. John's College, Annapolis, where he is a Ramsay Centre for Western Civilisation scholar. Ben is a constitutional fellow at The American Conservative and writes on U.S. and Australian politics for The Spectator Australia. He is from Sydney, Australia, and holds degrees in music and education from Griffith University and the University of Southern Queensland. He has taught music at the University of Sydney and recently conducted new recordings for the Australian Broadcasting Corporation.

THEODORE DALRYMPLE

(the pen name of Dr. Anthony Daniels) is a senior fellow at the Manhattan Institute and a contributing editor of City Journal. He is a retired physician who, most recently, practiced in a British inner-city hospital and prison. Denis Dutton, editor of Arts & Letters Daily, called Dalrymple the “Orwell of our time.”

DR. ROBIN DUNBAR

is head of the Social and Evolutionary Neuroscience Research Group in the Department of Experimental Psychology at the University of Oxford. An anthropologist, evolutionary psychologist, and specialist in primate behavior, he is best known for formulating Dunbar's number, a measurement of the “cognitive limit to the number of individuals with whom any one person can maintain stable relationships.”

DR. JULIANA GERAN PILON

is a senior fellow at the Alexander Hamilton Institute for the Study of Western Civilization. The author of eight books, including The Utopian Conceit and the War on Freedom and Why America is Such a Hard Sell: Beyond Pride and Prejudice, she has published over two hundred articles and reviews and makes frequent appearances on radio and television. She was also vice president of programs at IFES, where she oversaw global electoral assistance projects and wrote a civic education textbook in emerging democracies from the Soviet Bloc. She has also taught at the National Defense University, George Washington University, St. Mary's College of Maryland, the Institute of World Politics, and currently at American University.
